

At this point it's a good idea to check the fit. You want to loop snug enough to stay on the button but large enough that the wearer can actually close it.

Needle around the loop one more time. You don't want to pull it too tight but you also don't want bare thread showing in the loop.

Adjust the size of the loop as needed.

Make picots on this end also.

The finished loop end.

See the section Ending the Old Thread for details on securing and cutting off your thread.
